Integrated Language Arts-

We have really learned a lot about personal narratives! This week we will write a personal narrative about a small moment in our lives. Students will be including an interesting lead, two or more events, a closing. They will also demonstrate the use of transition words and some author's craft we learned about. I am so excited for our authors to demonstrate what they have learned!

Foundations- This week we will learn about adding a suffix -s to words with the glued sounds -ang, -ing, -ong, -ung -ank, -ink, -onk, or -unk. Our Unit 7 test will be given on Friday!

Reading Logs are due Friday!

Math- We are finishing our chapter on subtraction strategies this week. Thursday we will take our test.

Friends Time- Last week we read "Corduroy's Christmas Surprise". It is a sweet story of a selfless friend who asks Santa for the gifts that his friends wish for. This sparked a great conversation of "Paying it Forward". We in turn started our own 12 days of Christmas Kindness. Hopefully your kiddos have brought home their daily act of kindness and shared! They are really excited about this challenge
