Food Service Director Marsha Escola and student Sarah McCormick demonstrate how easy it is to use the key pad instead of cash at the lunch check-out.

Jackson has a new lunch and school fee program

This year a new program called PAY-FOR-IT will allow parents to put money into an account to pay for their child's lunches and school fees. Using the Internet, parents can also:

- 1. Access their child's account.
- 2. View what their child has bought for the last 30 days.
- 3. Check the cash balance of their child's account.
- 4. Receive e-mail notification of a low balance in the account.

Money can be added to the account by credit card or electronic check for a small convenience fee which will be added to the transaction. The program is not mandatory. You may still choose to pay by cash or check for lunches or school fees.

It's great to be a girl

Imagine if beauty were defined, not as young, thin and blonde, but as the source of selfconfidence and self-esteem that leads to personal excellence and kindness toward others.

Our culture bombards girls with false messages of beauty that are not only unattainable but also depthless, resulting in girls/women developing low self-esteem.

This school year, JMMS school counselors Melissa Miller and Karlyn Cunningham plan to redefine beauty and self esteem for a group of 8th graders in a pilot program called "It's Great to be a Girl."

"My mom is my hero. She helped me through everything in my life. I moved here in the middle of my freshman year, and she helped me through it. She gave me my outgoing personality, and that made freshman year easier."

"Nick Pallotta is my hero. Thanks to him, I am alive today. My grandpa is amazing. When he was in college, he averaged over 34 points per game. He could have played in the NBA, but he decided not to. Because of this, he met my grandma. They had a son named Todd. Thanks to my grandpa, my dad made the All-County Team at GlenOak. But I've still beaten him one-on-one a few times. Thanks to my grandpa, I have all the skill that he passed down to my dad and now to me." Jake Pallotta, grade 6

Summer art camps bring skills and smiles

For the past four summers, Jackson School for the Arts (JSA), under the direction of Mrs. Susan Gardner, has provided week-long art camps for elementary through middle school aged students. Each morning, campers were greeted by friendly high school students from JSA who assisted adult camp leaders: Amherst music teacher Mrs. Cindy Grove, Jackson High School art teacher Mr. Joe Piotrowski, Jackson High School theater teacher Mrs. Stepanie Fatzinger, and choreographer Megan Gattz.

Mrs. Grove directed campers in the production of the play Tom Sawyer. Mr. Piotrowski helped campers create stunning pieces of visual art. Mrs. Fatzinger directed the campers in the full production of the variety show, Imagination Through the Arts. On the final day of each camp, parents were treated to an art gallery show and a musical production with our students as the stars.

Older students teaching younger students

Jackson School for the Arts encourages students to apply what they have learned in the classroom to real life situations in the community by completing arts related internships. Each JSA student completes a 63-hour internship every nine weeks. These seniors are indispensable aids in the direction the middle school and elementary art camps. "Their hard work and dedication helps make these camps both feasible and successful," said Mrs. Gardner.

Art camper Alexandra Baxter shows one of her gallery pieces to her mother Victoria and her grandparents Roger and Judy Higgins.

About Jackson School for the Arts

The Jackson School for the Arts uses the arts as a keystone to reach and enrich its student body. The arts program, established in 2001, is designed for students who have interest in dance, drama, instrumental music, visual art, and vocal music. Since the start of the program, JSA has created many opportunities to educate the community about the arts, such as the Jackson School for the Arts Children's Show, JSA Showcase, and this year's fourth annual Arts Camps.

Rohan Bhargava, member of Jackson's 2010 State Championship Debate Team, finished in third-place at the National Forensics League Championship. The national competition was held in Kansas City, Mo. in June.

Rohan was one of six finalists in the International Extemporaneous category. He also holds two state 1st place titles and had competed nationally last year, finishing 12th.

"It was a gratifying culmination of my four years in debate. A perfect end," Rohan said.

Crediting his debate coaches, he said, "It is as much their victory as mine. I think we are the luckiest team in Ohio to have our coaches. They worked so hard for us, and they're really cool people, too. They were always there to help us coaching." Rohan's extemporaneous coach, Carley-Anne Barnes, praised his character, saying, "It was an honor to work with him because even though he had success after success, he was always humble and generous to his teammates. He took criticism very well, and was never content, constantly setting new goals for himself."

State and national victories require a lot of practice. This year, the Jackson Speech and Debate Team won its first-ever state title with 3 freshmen, 11 sophomores, 4 juniors, and 10 seniors, under the leadership of Director of Forensics, Leslie Mann.

The team practiced for at least 3.5 hours (and occasionally for 6.5 hours) Mondays through Thursdays.

"I spent more time with my team than I did my family," Rohan said, adding that the hard work created close bonds of friendship among team mates. "We always pushed each other to get better, and we always celebrated each other's victories."

The 2010 class valedictorian, Rohan will attend Princeton University in September to study biochemistry and economics.

Elementary students perform in OCDA Honor Choir

Lake Cable and Strausser Elementary students participated in the Sixth Annual Ohio Choral Directors Association (OCDA) Children's Honor Choir, comprised of Ohio's most talented singers who were in grades 4-8 last year. Students Nathan Geisberger, Luke Kilchenman, Chloe Downerd, Alanna Self, Hannah Burgess, Mikayla Martin, Trevor Miller, and Arizona Starcher were chosen by Lake Cable music teacher Nathalina Schloneger and Strausser music teacher Suzanne Walters.

To prepare for the event, students joined others across the state in two Saturday morning rehearsals (each three-hourslong) at Medina High School before meeting at Otterbein College to begin working with guest conductor, Dr. Robert J. Ward, associate director of choral studies at The Ohio State University.

The Children's Honor Choir performed at the OCDA Summer Conference, June 23 at Otterbein College, where choirs have the opportunity to sing for music educators, families, and friends through the state and to inspire them with their artistry.

"Our kids did a super job. It was a truly wonderful experience for them to sing some beautiful choral music, learn from outstanding directors, and work with kids from other schools who also love to sing," said Mrs. Walters, adding, "All of our students reported that they can't wait to do it again next year."

The program included the following six pieces, which the students performed from memory: Exsultate Justi In Domino by Brant Adams, Two Poems of Emily Dickinson (There Is No Frigate Like a Book and I Never Saw a Moor) by Neil Ginsberg, Music On the Waters by Brad Printz, Michael Row the Boat Ashore arranged by Neil Ginsberg and Torah Orah (Yisrael V'oraita) a Hebrew folk song arranged by Brant Adams.

This year's class of mentors will help the JHS freshman class adjust to high school life. Uppeclassmen train to welcome freshmen to Jackson High

Each year, JHS students volunteer to spend part of their summer learning how to be mentors to the new freshman class. The training, led by Ted Wiese, a motivational speaker from Wiese Training and Development, teaches the mentors how to make the upcoming freshman feel comfortable during their transition from middle school to high school. The mentors learn methods of positive talk, how to play ice-breaker games, and the importance of compassion.

Mentor Training Day has the upperclassmen playing interactive group games, modeling actual freshmen first day activities, creating a freshmen dance routine, and writing letters to their assigned freshmen.

The training is held to prepare the mentors for the freshmen first day of school, which takes place one day before sophomore, junior, and senior classes begin. The teachers, mentors and freshmen have the entire day and school to themselves. Mentors lead freshmen through specially designed ice-breaker activities, walk with them throughout the building as they follow their schedules to locate their classrooms, and eat lunch with their freshmen class.

"I am very impressed with our mentors this year. They eagerly jumped in and learned the importance of their position and the responsibility it carries," said guidance counselor Monica Sorriento.

The year-long mission of this group is to help upcoming freshmen in various aspects of personal growth and well-being as they navigate their first year of high school.

"I think the freshmen first day puts the freshmen at ease without the older students present. Mr. Wiese provides a wonderful service that teaches our mentors how to help the younger students and have fun at the same time," Mrs. Sorriento concluded.

A message from Principal Salvino

My name is Paul J. Salvino and I am extremely honored to serve as middle school principal of such a fantastic building in the tradition-rich district of Jackson Local Schools. I am very blessed to be a part of the Jackson team. All could not be possible without the support of my loving wife Abigail of eight years and children Dominic (6), Angelo (5), Francesco (3), and Carmela (2).

My family is very excited to be moving into the district and truly emersing ourselves into this outstanding community. I am also proud to have my children entering the school system because of the dedicated and passionate staff at Jackson.

I have served as high school principal at Claymont High School for the past two years, and prior to that was the high school assistant principal for several years. I began my teaching career in the Massillon City Schools teaching 7th grade science and social studies. I truly enjoy working with middle school students and wish everyone a safe, happy, and successful school year.

Principal Myers

As a 20-year resident of the Jackson Community, I am very proud to be the new high school principal. My husband Jim and I have two children who have benefited from our wonderful school system. Thomas graduated in 2005, is 23 and currently serving in the National Guard at Ft. Eustis, VA. Anna graduated in 2009, is 19 and beginning her sophomore year at KSU majoring in Human Development and Family Studies.

A message from

For the past two years, I have had the pleasure of working with our highly dedicated middle school staff as principal. Prior to that, I served as an assistant principal at the high school for five years. Before stepping into administration at JHS, I was very fortunate to have been a business/technology teacher at our high school for two years. I have been afforded many opportunities here within the Jackson Local School District that have helped me to grow personally and professionally. My desires are nothing more than to serve the children of our remarkable community and to help ready them socially and academically for their future.

Jackson teachers perform National Anthem at Hall of Fame enshrinee dinner After auditioning and winning the honor, four Jackson teachers opened the Pro Football Hall of Fame enshrinee program with a rendition of The Star Spangled Banner. The performers were: Scott Eversdyke, Bruce Lautzenheiser, Steve Dye, and Fred Locker.

The best safety device in any vehicle is a well-trained driver - and that's what AAA Massillon Driving School turns you into!

"The AAA Massillon Driving School was very helpful to me. Before I began my classes I thought I knew a lot about driving, but the class showed me much more. During the course, I found that I was greatly improving my driving skills. The classes were informative and interesting. I like how the instructors had everything planned out on the PowerPoint presentations. AAA Massillon Driving School made learning to drive fun and interesting at that same time. I would recommend this school to everyone.

Inspired by Heroes

"Joan d'Arc is my hero because she fought for God even though her gender and age forbade her to do so. Even facing death, she believed what God had told her and that the voices she heard were angels. It's amazing that she was chosen; a 14-year-old girl with no money or strengths, just faith. She was the first model for women, a girl fighting men and leading them to victory." Rose Milnes, grade 9

My Super Mom by Peyton Fettman

"My mom, Jodi Fettman is my hero because she's always kind. She doesn't have a hate in her heart. She always cares about me and loves me for who I am. I love her so much. She is my #1 mom. Peyton Fettman, grade 3

"Lucy Geiser is my hero. When she was nine-months-old, she got diagnosed with brain tumor cancer. She was a very smart baby. She learned the whole alphabet at the age of two-yearsold. At that age, she also knew how to count up to 20. Now she's seven-years-old. She went through all those years with that stuff, and she still has cancer. I'll love her forever and always."

"LeBron James. He doesn't do drugs. He is a great basketball player. He also passes has become tripple-double a few times. That is why I admire him." Alexander Degenhard, grade 3

"My teacher, Miss Theodore. She inspires me to do big things. Her influence on me has been phenomenal because she has shown me the path to success. I both admire and respect her, and only hope to amount to half of her accomplishments. Miss T is my hero, and I 100% appreciate her. Jake Ross, grade 10

"Miss Marie. Her personality and everlasting love for me shaped who I am today. Miss Marie was my childhood day care nanny, and was far from the average worker. She went out of her way to involve my brother and me in her life and never ceased to take an interest in ours. Miss Marie cared for us and gave me the courage to act as an individual. As another motherly figure in our lives, she treated us with love and kindness, but never let us get out of line. She shaped my personality completely. Miss Marie is my hero. Karlie DiRuzza, grade 9

"Dave Zito, my dad. He inspires me through my sports, school, and what I think about my future. When he was in high school, he played many sports and was good. He would push me to do better even when I was little. I loved playing sports, and he knew it, so we had a deal that if I got all good grades I could keep playing. My father is a very successful man. He taught me that hard work and persistence really does get you somewhere. Also, everybody, including my dad, had hard times, but he also told me you can push through those hard times. My dad's success, from his younger years

"Cpl. Shafer A.K.A. Uncle Todd. I admire him because he is in the U.S. Marines and he protects our country. He took the time to write letters to me when I was born. but I would have been too young to remember. I can't wait to see him this summer." Jeffrey Shafer, grade 4

"Mike Fuline is my hero because he is an inspirational person who has achieved many things in his life. Coach Fuline is a family man and is also respected greatly in the community."

Jimmy Dehnke, grade 10

Fall athletes spend a summer day giving back

It was NFL day at Giant Eagle on the Strip, as the store celebrated its Regional Bagging Contest. Football players, cheerleaders, and band members from Jackson High School, were on hand to help.

NFL and collegiate team flags lined the register lanes. Jackson's inflatable Polar Bear Head was placed at the front entrance of the store for customers to pass through just as the football team does on Friday nights before the games. Jackson football players lined up on both sides of the bear head in full dress while the band and cheerleaders made some noise.

"Our customers loved it," said store manager Nancy Beddell.

The bagging contest is held across the region in the spirit of Points were awarded as baggers raced to properly bag items in the least amount of time without exceeding a bag-weight limit.

"Thank you," said Mrs. Beddell, "to all the JHS students who participated. You made it a tail-gate party to remember."

She also thanked Diane Burton, president of the Mama Bears Football Mothers Group "for her help in making our celebration a great success."

Mrs. Biddell concluded, "We can all be very proud of the students and school district leaders here in Jackson. It was a pleasure to see our students giving back to the community."

Jackson Local Schools also thanks Giant Eagle for the many acts of kindness and support it gives to various projects within the school district.

meetings/events together with the two counselors.

"We wanted the moms to be a part of it because mom is the number one predictor of a girl's self-esteem, Mrs. Cunningham said.

The program is designed to raise awareness to the negative messages that girls absorb from the media, peers, and celebrities, and to counter them with ideas and facts that widen the definition of beauty so that everyone can fit. The program will march toward the goal of inner beauty and outer confidence through a variety of activities that promote team-building, charity, discovery of unique talents, appreciation of family, development of a respectable fashion/ make-up sense, career exploration, and financial savvy.

Last school year the girls were chosen based on their differences and the unique and personal qualities they had to offer. They have varying levels of social confidence, emotional and physical development, different roles in the community and school system, and a variety of grade point averages.

"We want the girls to gain a better understanding of themselves and to feel empowered by their differences," Mrs. Cunningham said.

Inspired by Heroes

"My dog Duce. He is loyal and fun to play ball with. His dog food smells really bad. He is a very good swimmer, and sometimes he licks my face. We play hide and seek, and on occasion, he sits on my lap."

Jake Patrick Miner, grade 8

"Rachel Roudebush is my hero. We were at Lake Erie and I couldn't swim at the time. I was walking into the water. All of a sudden there was a drop-off and there was a girl next to me, but I didn't know her name. I was yelling, "Help, help," but she was laughing at me. Then I looked at my mom, named Rachel. It took a second till she realized,

'Where's Alex?' Then she saw me drowning, so she ran in her shoes and clothes and came to save me."

Alex Roudebush, grade 3

"My grandpa, Chuck Popa is my hero. He was a firefighter and a Korean War veteran. As a firefighter, he saved many people from fires. He is a very great man, and is very brave. Now Chuck Popa that he is not a firefighter anymore, he plays golf. Also, he loves watching my siblings and me play sports. He takes me and my brother golfing sometimes. He is my hero." Matthew Hallworth, grade 4

"Emily Cao (classmate) is my hero. She restores peace and order to the world, loves all people, and is a good listener. The world would be so much more peaceful if people would listen to her ideas." Kylin

Copthorne, grade 7

"Charlie. He is always helping people if they can't do something, or if they need a ride somewhere. He also does the thing that is most important first, then does the other stuff later. Deja Burgess, grade 4

"All of the brave soldiers of America, including my brother. They are risking their lives to serve America in upcoming wars, battles, etc. They are fighting for our freedom.

"My father is my hero. He always encourages me to reach my goals and dreams. A periodontist and a pianist, my dad introduced me to blues music. which inspired me to play guitar. It became my passion. Whether it is a question on my math homework or a question about life, my father will always have the correct answer." Fuad Farah, grade 8

Steve is my hero. He loves me so much that he can't be replaced. He teaches me things like how to be polite and always show a smile and to never give up. He will do anything for me. I am his little girl to hold forever. I love telling Dad what happened today at school. He always makes a great dad." Tessa Riley, grade 3

"My dad

Jackson Local seeks to serve children with disabilities

Within the intent of the federal statutes (Rehabilitation Act of 1973-section 504 and Individuals with Disabilities Education Act IDEA-public law 105-17), the Jackson Local School District continues its effort to locate and identify children with disabilities from birth through age 21. Children with disabilities have physical, emotional, and or mental impairments that may require special education. Public schools provide free and appropriate education regardless of a child's disability. However, before these children can be served, they must be found. Many of these children are not visible because they may not function in the community's mainstream, and many are preschoolers. Parents may not realize that programs and services are available through their school district or from agencies in their community. If you are aware of a child who may need a special education program or services, contact the principal of the school the child attends or would likely attend upon reaching school age.

Jackson Local seeks federal grants for special education

The Jackson Local School District is eligible to submit two applications to the Ohio Department of Education for federal grants to maintain and improve fiscal year 2011 special education programs and services in the Jackson Local Schools: Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) (Public Law 105-17) and Education of the Handicapped Act, Preschool Grant Program (Public Law 99-457). Residents within the Jackson Local School District may inquire and make program and service recommendations regarding the Fiscal Year 2010 grant applications. For more information, contact Kathy Brand, Director of Special Programs at 330-830-8006.

Buildings continually inspected for asbestos

The district's Asbestos Management Plan is kept current through general inspection of all buildings every six months. A major reevaluation is done every three years in compliance with the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Act of 1986. Anyone interested in viewing the plan can make an appointment with buildings and grounds supervisor, Ricky White, at the Administration Office, 7602 Fulton Drive (at the high school), 330-830-8044. Copies of the plan may also be purchased for 25 cents per page, payable in advance, with a maximum of five work days required for preparation.

Asbestos-containing floor was properly removed from a JHS classroom as part of the renovation plan.

Basic student information is made publicly available

As per Jackson Local Board of Education policy, our schools make available, upon request, directory information which includes student names, addresses, telephone numbers, date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, height, weight if student is a member of an athletic team, date of graduation and awards received.

Parents and adult students may refuse to allow disclosure of any or all such directory information upon written notice to the building principal within 10 days of receipt of this notice. It is also your right to: • Inspect and review your student's educational records · Request amendments if the record is inaccurate, misleading or otherwise in violation of the student's rights

- · Disallow disclosure of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except in the cases of disclosures allowed by law
- File a complaint of district noncompliance with the Department of Education
- Obtain a copy of the district's policy and administrative guidelines on student records.

JHS required to provide student information to military recruiters

Each high school receiving federal funding is REQUIRED to turn over student information (name, address, phone number) to local military recruiters unless parents opt out in writing. You can visit www.leavemychildalone.org to remove your child's name.

You can be proud of your school district JACKSON TEACHER IS AUTHOR

Jackson's motto, Striving for Excellence, is driven by a community that demands the best from its school district and provides for it by supporting levy/bond issues, thus enabling the district to deliver cutting-edge programs for students. The district strives to create a world class, high-performing, fiscally sound educational system for its 5,677 students and its community.

Students Are Our First Priority

Jackson prepares its students to excel in a global economy by providing a rigorous core curriculum at all levels of the academic spectrum. The district has a full-service special education program, including an outstanding autistic unit. There is also a gifted program and 16 advanced placement classes in which 40% of high school students participate.

Jackson has collaborated with North Canton and Perry to develop a two-year International Baccalaureate program set to begin this fall. The district also collaborates with North Canton, Lake, Canton, and Plain to provide career/ technical course offerings. Collaborations reduce the duplication of services, allowing districts to provide excellence in programming to a wide body of students while creatively using limited resources.

Because everything is not learned inside the classroom, the district's fourth graders participate in a swim program at the YMCA. Sixth graders are offered an outdoor learning experience at Camp Muskingam. Seventh graders have the opportunity to visit to Washington D.C., and eighth graders experience a learning day at Cedar Point. High School students are offered expeditions to China, Paris, Spain, and the Bahamas. With the exception of fourth grade swimming, off-campus opportunities require students to pay part or all of their travel, food, and lodging expenses.

Accomplishments

Academically, Jackson is consistently ranked among the top 25 of Ohio's 613 districts. Test results from the 2009-10 school year marks the district's 10th consecutive "Excellent" rating from the Ohio Department of Education.

Jackson has two nationally recognized Blue Ribbon schools. Jackson High School and Lake Cable

Blue Ribbon schools are either academically superior or demonstrate dramatic gains in student achievement to levels in the top 10% of the nation.

JHS has been ranked among the top 1500 high schools in America by Newsweek magazine for the past five years. US News and World Report awarded JHS a Silver Medal, ranking it in the top 3% of U.S. high schools.

The graduation rate is 99.8% with approximately 87% seeking higher education. The 2010 senior class collectively earned more than $1.5 million in college scholarships.

Athletically, Jackson High offers 21 varsity sports, 5 club sports, and cheerleading. Nearly 50% of JHS student body participates in one or more sport. JHS is a perennial top contender for the Federal League All-Sports Trophy and proudly produces teams that compete at the state tournament level every year.

Fiscal Facts

Jackson's results are attained even though the district is consistently one of the lowest per-pupil spenders among the 20 Ohio districts most similar to Jackson.

A township tax base valued at $1.3 billion (approximately 60% residential and 40% commercial properties) provides 73.2% of the Jackson Local budget. The remaining 20% is provided by the state, and 3.8% by the Federal Government.

Community Collaboration

The district enjoys consistent community participation through a wealth of parent support groups and classroom volunteers. Hundreds of parents and community friends volunteer thousands of hours reading with children, reviewing math, and raising funds for classroom extras.

A program called Key Communicators, annually takes 30+ community leaders behind the scenes for a five-month, in-depth look at the district, from buses to balance sheets.

A team of 34 community members, administrators. and students have recently developed a strategic plan for 2010-2015 to meet the district's current and anticipated challenges as they pertain to emerging educational, economic, social, demographic, and technological trends.

Conclusion

Schools and communities are people, not bricks and mortar. Jackson Local is made of people who truly care for students, from teachers and administrators to custodians and cooks. All are dedicated to continuous improvement. Jackson Township is made predominately of professional, well-educated people who understand the shrinking globe and want to prepare their children to thrive locally and internationally.

The narrative speaks to why students with special needs are here, why they should not be excluded from the regular classroom, how they are like and unlike their typical peers, and how teachers can help typical and non-typical students develop friendships.

Ty is a composite of the myriad of students Mr. Durkin has taught, including students with autism. Many students and their families will relate to Ty, and perhaps one Jackson teacher will see herself clearly defined in the book. The teacher character in the book is based on Mr. Durkin's experiences with Amherst teacher Jenna Mysza who eagerly found opportunities to integrate Mr. Durkin's students into her typical classroom. Both teachers understand that when students with special needs and typical students share a learning space, everyone, including the teacher, has opportunities for social, emotional, and academic growth.

Mr. Durkin's passion for his students began as he graduated high school and his father volunteered him to serve at a summer camp for students with special needs. Reluctantly, Mr. Durkin obliged his father, but found the campers to be "odd." As a teenaged boy, he was not as interested in the campers as he was in the pretty, female camp counselors that were his own age.

"By the next year, the good-looking girls were gone, but I would ride my bike in the rain to get there and be with the campers," Mr. Durkin said.

It was the beginning of his career-long appreciation of his students' depth. "There is an innate grace that emanates from people with special needs. They retain an innocence and purity that is endearing. We teach them and learn from them," he said.

Mr. Durkin mentioned his gratitude for Principal Elaine Ferguson who encourages inclusion. "She made sure our kids were included in the main classroom to foster relationships and learning," he said.

Mr. Durkin now teaches students with special needs at the high school.
