

Fallacy Presentation Rubric NAMES: _____

Fallacy: _____ Date: _____

Is Fallacy LOGICAL FALLACY or EMOTIONAL FALLACY ?

Fallacy Presentation – 50 points - IDA

Goal: As a small group, teach one logical or emotional fallacy to peers in College Composition II. Yes, use PPT or PREZI – Put the presentation in our CLASS

BEARWORKS folder inside one of your folders. DO NOT SHARE IT WITH INSTRUCTOR

Directions: Follow the rubric

1 = Lowest effort minimal or non-existent

2 = Needs Improvement

3 = Average work

4 = Above average / met expectations

5 = Exceeded expectations

Criteria:

Category	POINT VALUES
Accuracy of Information in presentation – accurate DEFINITION of fallacy in your own words.	1	2	3	4	5
Trick or method for learning to remember fallacy – learner involvement in Presentation	1	2	3	4	5
Visual aid(s) accurate and visually strong/relevant – how Fallacy appears in society. (Politics, in news, in school, in relationships?) IMPORTANT - Not too much info on slide – more slides with less information is better – Font large enough for audience to see	1	2	3	4	5
Effectively work together during presentation – both speak – effective speaking skills (eye contact – preparedness)	1	2	3	4	5
Time allocation met (7-9 min. max)	1	2	3	4	5
(25) Totals:	_____ x 2 = _____ Score

Add to pages 24 and 25 in NEAT printing –
Put them in the correct section.

LOGIC:

RED HERRING – making a claim and then diverting attention away with something unrelated.

FALSE AUTHORITY – using a person who has no authority on the subject as a credible source.

EMOTION:

Ad Hominem – Attacking someone's character instead of focusing on the issue.